The Agamemnon of Æschylus. Revised and Translated. By JOHN F. DAVIES, B.A., T.C.D., First Classical Master in Kingstown School, Ireland.

In this Edition the discoveries made by Karsten, Heimsoeth, Weil, Enger, and many other Continental Scholars, are for the first time placed before the English Student, and further corrections are proposed in short Latin notes. The conjectures of Hermann and his predecessors are either simply recorded and adopted as fully proved, or are altogether omitted. An attempt is made to reproduce the metres of the text in a literal line-for-line English translation. Passages of doubtful or hitherto unexplained meaning are discussed in an entirely new and original Commentary.

Psalms and Litanies, Coun-

SELS and COLLECTS, for Devout Persons. By ROWLAND WILLIAMS, D.D., late Vicar of Broadchalke; sometime Senior Fellow and Tutor of King's College, Cambridge. Edited by his Widow.

By the same Author,

The Hebrew Prophets. Translated afresh, and Illustrated for English Readers. Two vols., 8vo., cloth, 22s. 6d.

Vol. I.—The Prophets under the Assyrian Empire. Vol. II.—The Prophets under the Babylonian Empire. 12s.

"A work on the Hebrew Prophets, which, like the one here commenced, endeavours to keep pace, as regards its deepest purport and highest objects, with the present state of German critical science, is in itself a 'sign of the times' of English studies. Since the days of R. Lowth and Newcombe, a work like this is unheard of in England. This work is thus the first of its kind in England, and contains much that it would be hardly possible to wish better."

EWALD in Götting. Gel. Anzeiger, 1867.

"Dr. Williams is an independent and sharp critic. The difficulties in the way of the traditions regarding the authors and age of the Old Testament Prophecies, to which others have already referred, do not escape his notice; but even when the suspicions of others have not roused him to watchfulness, his eye is open to the difficulties which present themselves. He brings them unhesitatingly to the light, and gives suggestions for their removal, which testify of candour, if not of boldness."—KÜHNEN in Theologische Tijdschrift, 1871.

"Ueberrall gewahren wir einen durchaus selbstständigen Denker und feinen Ausleger, der in seinen Grundanschauungen auf der Höhe der wissenschaftlichen Bildung der Zeit steht."—DIETTEL in Jahrbücher für Deutsche Theologie, 1872.

Pre-Historic Times; as Illustrated by Ancient Remains, and the Manners and Customs of Modern Savages. By Sir JOHN LUBBOCK, Bart., M.P., F.R.S., &c.

"A work of more than usual interest, in which he has dealt with a very difficult subject in the most scientific, but at the same time in the most alluring manner. . . ."—Times.

"The book ranks among the noblest works of the interesting and important class to which it belongs."

Athenæum.

"Those who desire a compact and careful review of the whole subject, well illustrated, will find it in this volume."—ib.

"On the subject of pre-historic Archaeology it is not only a good book of reference, but the best."—Nature.

THEOLOGICAL TRANSLATION FUND.

A Series of Translations by which the best results of recent Theological investigations on the Continent, conducted without reference to doctrinal considerations, and with the sole purpose of arriving at truth, will be placed within reach of English readers.

The Committee has agreed upon the following works to commence the Series :—

Baur's History of the First Three Centuries; Ewald's Prophets of the Old Testament; Kuenen, The Religion of Israel; Keim's Life of Jesus; Zeller on the Acts of the Apostles; Baur's Paul, his Life and Works; Bleek's Lectures on the Apocalypse; Reuss's History of the New Testament Scriptures; Köstlin's Doctrine of St. John, with Zeller's Review.

Three Volumes, of about 400 pp. annually, for a Guinea Subscription.

The Prospectus, bearing the signatures of Principal Tulloch, Dean Stanley, Professors Jowett, H. J. Smith, Henry Sidgwick, Dr. Davidson, the Rev. James Martineau, Mr. W. G. Clark, the Revs. T. K. Cheyne, J. Allanson Picton, C. Kegan Paul, Professor Caird, and others, may be had on application to MISS F. P. COBBE'S ESSAYS. DARWINISM IN MORALS AND (13) OTHER ESSAYS (Religion in Childhood, Unconscious Cerebration, Dreams, the Devil, Auricular Confession, &c. &c.). 400 pp. 8vo., cloth, 10s.

"We have no hesitation in recommending these collected Essays to the attention of our readers. All bear more or less upon important theological questions, and the greater portion of them on theological questions of the day. We may venture to assure our readers that Miss Cobbe's remarks are always significant and suggestive, often acute; and that they are in our judgment calculated to encourage a genuine religious enthusiasm. Above all, her writings are characterised by a spirit of tolerance which is rare in men. In fine, the volume is a highly interesting series of lay sermons, thoughtful, intelligent and suggestive. Miss Cobbe has done well in collecting and republishing these contributions to liberal theology."—Athenæum.

MISS COBBE's other works: 1. RELIGIOUS DUTY. 5s.—2. BROKEN LIGHTS. 5s.—3. DAWNING LIGHTS. 5s.—4. ALONE TO THE ALONE: Prayers for Theists. 5s.—5. STUDIES OF ETHICAL AND SOCIAL SUBJECTS. 5s.—6. ITALICS. Brief Notes on Italy. 5s.—7. HOURS OF WORK AND PLAY. 5s. May also be had of the same Publishers,

On Nature, Meditation, Atonement, Absolution. Crown 8vo., cloth, 7s. 6d.

Owen Glendower, a Dramatic

Biography; and other Poems. Fcap. 8vo., cloth, 5s.

"Dr. Williams has fully obtained that effect of brevity and compactness which Pope studied in his gravest work, and has added weight by this resource to many strokes of his plain and manly eloquence." . . . "We must credit the drama for a fair study of one noble, though not very peculiar character; for a reasonable number of spirited addresses and colloquies; and in general for a masculine temper, which we might wish further diffused among contemporary poets." . . . "The poem on 'Patriarchal Religion' comprises ideas of grave interest, though now rendered familiar by controversy." . . . "It is in a few pieces bearing the form of hymns or prayers that Dr. Williams attains his highest degree of suavity and calmness."—Spectator.

"Of all Dr. Williams's works, this comes nearest to an autobiography. We have in it a complete self-revelation, probably undesigned, but none the less true on that account, of the man himself. The main episodes of his life, his trials and struggles, his views and speculations, his feelings and sympathies, are portrayed by his own hand with evident truth and genuine simplicity. Hence, for those who are interested not only in the scholar and thinker, but in the man, we cannot recommend a fuller or more trustworthy record than is contained in these interesting pages."—Theological Review.
